HOW TO JOIN THE FLINN GALLERY COMMITTEE

The Flinn Gallery of the Greenwich Library is run entirely by volunteers. A committee of approximately 50 volunteers select, curate and install exhibitions; design invitations; write publicity; hold receptions; and do much more for six exhibitions a year. These exhibits generally run for six weeks and are scheduled between September and June.

The Flinn Gallery Committee welcomes new members. The following are membership requirements for joining the committee:

- Be a member of the Friends of the Greenwich Library
- Pay dues to the committee of $30 a year
- Attend monthly meetings usually held on the second Monday of the month
- Staff the gallery desk for a morning or afternoon once each exhibit
- Help with installation or take down of an exhibit once or twice a season
- Help with opening receptions

If you are interested in becoming a member, please download our Membership Application, fill it out and mail it to the Greenwich Library address at the top of this application, with Attention: Flinn Gallery Membership.
